

ORCHARD MANAGEMENT.

Young Trees Need Both Mature and Mellow Cultivation.

A common mistake in years past, which the planters of orchards fell into, was in supposing that orchards did not require as much care and enriching as any other crop on the farm. Many set but young trees and gave them little more attention. They erroneously supposed that in time these trees would bear abundantly of fine fruit, and bring them in plenty of money. The trees were expected to take full care of themselves. The result was that some died the first year, a good many the second, and in a few years but few remained. A neighbor set out a hundred fine peach trees. They were transplanted into a clover meadow, and aligned such as clover the place afforded them. In two years only three remained. Success, however, is often better, but without proper treatment the trees will make poor growth, and yield a small and poor fruit.

In contrast with these was an orchard of a few apple trees in an adjoining State on a place of a few acres, the owner of which made it a rule to spread all the enriching material he had of any kind, the manure of the horse and cow, and the manure of the pig, were raised beneath the trees, and the ground was so rich and mellow that it could be easily kicked loose with the foot. Those who had been in the orchards of the old world fruits (Fig. 1), while in other orchards in the neighborhood they were surprised to find that the trees were numbered and thirty acres in this State made the raising and sale of fruit his chief business and source of profit, selling the fruit at prices higher than those of the apples (the prices were higher than now) for about five thousand dollars. The rest of his land was used for raising cattle and sheep, and he or nearly all the manure made on the farm was given to his fruit trees. This treatment gave him good crops of apples, and he was able to raise a very attractive fruit, when in other orchards the apples were small and scabby, and when the trees would appear to be those of the same kind as those of the orchard of Fig. 2.

No one should start up a new orchard unless he is sure he can give to both the soil and the trees the same treatment as a small one of a few acres, bearing very rich and beautiful specimens, is better than a large one of a hundred acres, bearing wide acres. There will be more profit well therefore for the planter to determine beforehand what special attention he will give to the trees and fix on the size of the orchard accordingly. Cultivation alone, keeping the soil open and the trees free from weeds, may answer while the trees are young; but when they come into heavy bearing, this large annual draft can be supplied only by the application of fertilizers, dressing in the autumn or winter, of rich barn manure.—Country Gentleman.

Died April Nearly 120 Years.
The only centenarian in Sumner County, Tenn., died Thursday at Castalian Springs. Her name was Tina Thompson. She was 119 years of age. She was buried at Castalian Springs Friday.

Probably Fatally Burned.
At Jonesboro, Tenn., the daughter of R. W. Haskell was probably fatally burned by her clothes taking fire from a grate. A little negro boy was also burned in almost the same way. He may die.

President of Switzerland.
Dr. Welli has been elected President of Switzerland.

Right to Use Steel Patents.
The steel patents company which controls the patents for making basic steel finally has decided, at a meeting in Philadelphia, to sell to outside manufacturers the right to use the process upon payment of a royalty of one dollar per ton.

Christmas Turkeys From Canada.
A special freight train of seventeen cars laden with poultry left Ottawa, Ontario, for New York City, for the Christmas market. The shipment is one of the largest ever sent from there. The duties to be paid are estimated at $15,000.

Machine Guns for the Italian Campaign.
Two Hotchkiss machine guns, with their accessories, were shipped to Fort Meade, S. D., Wednesday.

WHAT is a Democrat? A man is a good Democrat who votes the Democratic ticket at the time. The other sort of Democrat is the man who runs after strange gods and votes for miscellaneous tickets.

—Frankfort Capital.

The celebrated old war hero, Gen.
Wade Hampton, was defeated for the United States Senate, in the South Carolina Legislature, last week, by a farmer named Irby. The vote on the last ballot stood 104 to 44. The farmer is making himself felt as well as heard in various parts of the country. We hope Mr. Irby may well fill the shoes of his predecessor.

DELEGATE BURNAM, of Madison, in the Constitutional Convention, proposed a constitutional oath, requiring every man elected to office to take an oath, affirming that he has not used money or other corrupt practices to secure his election. The author supported it in an argument that it would do more to break up the practice of vote-buying than any other provision this convention could adopt. —Cincinnati Post.

A GREAT NEWSPEAPER.

We know of no newspaper more ably edited or that contains better news than the Baltimore Sun. Its corps of editors start unsurpassed, and every phase of politics and news is daily presented to its readers in the most attractive way.
Thomas Jefferson, were he now living, would delight to read such a paper, and would say plain English, "them's my sentiments."

THE SILVER PROBLEM.

Mr. McCray proposes to solve the silver problem bothering Congress with a resolution which will provide that the United States delegates to the Pan-American Monetary Conference, to be held at Washington in January next, be instructed to advocate before it a bi-metallic standard, and the adoption by the people represented in the conference of the gold and silver coins of this country;
also, that they urge upon the conference the wisdom of the policy of the free coinage of silver. —Cincinnati Post.

THE HIGHEST BRIDGE IN THE UNITED STATES.

The work of constructing the cut-off on the Southern Pacific Railroad west of San Antonio, Texas, from Shum-blers will begin in a short time. The cut-off is to be only 7 miles long, but will cost not less than $1,000,000. The bridge that is to be thrown across the Pecos river will, it is said, be the highest in the United States, the entire span to be 378 feet above the water. The bridge is to be of the bridge, from cliff to cliff, will be 1,200 feet. The 15 miles to be abandoned cost $4,000,000, and the track runs along high cliffs, through two tunnels and over twenty-five bridges.

MAD ABOUT IT.

The Constitutional Convention wasted
a day in a fruitless trip to Richmond, last week, and has arranged for a Christmas holiday that will extend over fourteen good working days. This looks like child's play, to say nothing of a prodigious waste of time and money that do not belong to them. The people are disgusted, and we feel sure that the working, conscientious members of the body must regret their connection with it. —Lancaster Record.

MR. CLARKSON ON THE REASON WHY.

Mr. Clarkson, who did so much execution upon Democratic postmasters when he was in the Postoffice Department, says the campaign of 1892 is already opened.
It is to be fought, he says, by the press, and the party that understands that fact will be successful. "If the people," he says, "are to read a Democratic or republican paper where they ought to read a Republican paper the Democrats are sure to win." Hence his advice to his party is to "reinforce its press." At present, in his view, the most widely circulated papers of the country are Democratic—a fact of which the Democratic party is proud.
Mr. Clarkson said something very like this before the November elections, and the result proved his perspicacity. The reason why the Democratic press is forging ahead at present is that it is advocating the people's interests as against those of the monopolists. Mr. Clarkson probably understands that as well as anybody, though he does not think it good politics to say so. —Baltimore Sun.

MILLIONS TO EDUCATION.

and $165,000 to hospitals. The will was made on Oct. 8, 1880 and has four committees. The testator died on November 15, 1880.

FROM THE THRONE.

The Queen's speech opening the session of Parliament, presents a rather melancholy legislative program. Besides the Irish land purchase scheme of Mr. Balfour, the government will try to pass a bill for the relief of English and Welsh title-owners, a bill to facilitate legislation affecting private undertakings and a bill to extend free education. The first two of these measures will be violently opposed by Mr. Gladstone and by Mr. Parson, who will continue to lead the nationalists. The session has been opened weeks earlier than usual to gain time. A furthest gain of time is expected to be made by cutting short the address in reply to the speech from the throne. Steps will be taken probably by the government to devise new means of limiting speech-making in order to render these gains of time useful. If the means employed prove effective, the government will attempt other measures, such as a local government bill for Ireland, a bill to enlarge the facilities for the purchase of small pieces of land and other bills of like character. The majority upon which Lord Salisbury relies has been somewhat diminished by bye-elections, but still numbers over 80.

THE FARMERS VS. THE FORCE BILL.

The Farmers' National Alliance in session at Ocala, Florida, adopted on Wednesday, resolutions denouncing the Force Bill in terms that cannot be misunderstood. The following preamble and resolutions were adopted unanimously, amid the wildest enthusiasm:

are wise and weighty words, and deserve to be pondered by every Democrat who values the principles of his party and desires their success beyond the mere personal and selfish aggrandizement of self-constituted leaders and managers who are covered by the name of Democracy.
The plunder of the camp than for the principles of the party or the triumph of its cause. The tribute which Mr. Cleveland pays to those independent and patriotic Republicans throughout the country who co-operate with the Democratic candidates is no more than just.

It was not, therefore, a victory of the Democratic organization, but of Democratic principles, and those who rely upon the organization for their success in the coming year—be it next year or the year following—will do well to consider the conditions upon which such success is always possible. It is not only disconcerted and disheartened Democrats, but Republicans but disheartened Democrats in large numbers who have still to be converted into ardent Democrats. The success of the Democratic candidates at the next election is no more than just.

THE CLIMAX.

Wednesday, - - December 17, 1920.

Slaw lost. See local.

Armer has a word about fine Christmas goods. See ad.

Several houses are building near the Three Forks depot.

The present winter will not be a long one, as it has got a late start.

Mr. W. A. Powell has removed to his handsome residence on Broadway.

The CLIMAX Supplement, this week, has a quantity of good reading. See it.

A hundred bushels of canned coal sold at the Billy Fox sale, Thursday, at 22 cents per bushel.

Mr. Rowland Yates, an aged citizen of the county, has been confined to his bed the past ten days.

Mr. James W. Farley bought four horses in Lexington, last week, for $3,505. See horse column.

Will somebody please kill a burglar? We know of nothing better any man could do for the community.

The Collins Furniture Company is composed of Messrs. Joe, Jake and Tom Collins, a rich and popular firm.

Ex-Collector T. S. Branton has been dangerously sick for a week or more, but was somewhat improved yesterday.

The water-works company cheerfully and liberally settled with J. H. H. Bogg for the mare killed by a blast. Price, $25.

Mr. E. M. Dickson, of Paris, son-in-law of Dr. Hantmon, is a candidate for the Legislature. He is a good man and we hope he'll win.

There are those in the county who believe that the robbery at Ford, while others believe that they are a lot of ostensible peddlers.

Indications strongly assert that the K. C. has been sold to the L. & N. That will give a through-car line South, and competition to Louisville.

Born—On Sunday, December 7th, to the wife of S. S. Brown, steam landladyman, a son. Mother and son are doing well. Now "the Chinese must go."

S. Dinelli & Co., explain to you in this issue how they sell candy cheaper than anybody on earth. Drop in and see Joe about it. We'll furnish the diagram.

Mr. M. Pragerheimer has opened a line of millinery and toilet goods at the "Famous Bargain Store" on First street. Ladies will find many things new and pleasing.

The ladies of the Kirkville Presbyterian Church will have a "Christmas market," and you can depend upon it that a nice "market" won't be found any where else.

Mr. Bijar White, accompanied by his friend, Mr. Evan Shelby, of Lexington, spent the past two weeks hunting in the mountains. They brought about three hundred birds home with them.

General C. M. Clay is now out of danger and will be well again in a short time. Dr. C. C. Smith, his nephew, remained with him two weeks. It was his first sickness in 40 years, and at one time was serious.

Mr. P. M. Pope has bought a lot of Walnut street in the Powell addition, and will build a residence in the early spring. It will be in full view of the crossing of Main and Second streets, looking north on Second.

Sitting Bull, the good Indian—they are all good—is dead. He and several others were killed by the Indian police, Monday, but not until the old warrior had sent several of the police to the happy hunting ground.

Mr. C. C. Chrisman made an assignment on Wednesday to Hon. W. T. Tervis. His assets exceed his liabilities. The assignment is caused by security debts. Among them was $5,000 for Tom Ross, who recently disappeared.

Agent Miller, of the U. S. Express office, has received a powerful Norman-Porchman horse from Chicago, and a nice new wagon from Milwaukee, and is ready and willing to haul everything you may want to send by express.

Why can't the wounded robber be found? Has nobody heard of a neighbor who has been "shot by accident while out hunting," or "fell off a horse into a keg of nails," or got "thrown by a horse on a barbed wire fence?" Keep your eyes peeled.

The L. & N. will take charge of the Kentucky Central, January 1. This will be good news to the Lancasters and others along the line to Richmond.

The new winners will improve the road at once and put on fast trains to Richmond.—Stanford Journal.

Badly Burned.

Foreman Merritt, of the Million barrel shop at Foxtown, was seriously burned on Saturday. He lay down in the shop to rest and to sleep. When he awoke the shavings were on fire and also his clothing. He extinguished the shavings before he paid any attention to himself.

The Gas Main.

Work on the gas main will reach the public square, to-day. The main comes by way of Walnut, B, Broadway and Second streets, and is 10 inches in diameter. Beyond the public square, the main is reduced to 6 inches.

Try men are at work, and they dig up considerable dirt in a day.

A Cake Sale.

The CLIMAX has received the subjoined which tells the whole story, and don't you forget to attend:

The ladies of the Methodist Church will have a cake sale on the 23rd and 24th at Mrs. Bourne's. All who desire cakes, salads, pies, or anything in the line of Christmas delicacies are invited to call and see what they have.

Another Planing Mill.

Wardner and Wallace have secured the Heath warehouse at the K. C. depot, and will convert it into a planing mill. Work on the change will begin January 1st. Both men are practical builders and consequently familiar with lumber and its handling.

It makes three planing-mills for Richmond, besides three others in the county.

A Little Hasty.

On the 4th page of THE CLIMAX, under the head of News Paragraphs, appears an article, copied from the Stanford Journal. The lady was Mrs. Dr. Herring, and the Lancaster Record explained her conduct as the work of mental aberration. Dr. Herring took offense and attacked editor Armer with a knife, but friends prevented any more trouble. As Mrs. Armer is noted for his uniform kindness and excellent character, the Doctor was no doubt a little previous with his knife.

Another Robbery.

Mr. Wallace Norris, near College Hill, was robbed, Sunday night, of $40.

The money was taken from his pocket while asleep at the house of his father, Mr. Simpson Norris.

People sleep too sound and don't keep enough dogs and guns. Why don't somebody shoot a robber?

A Change.

Governor Backner has appointed Judge D. H. Hunt to succeed Hon. W. W. Estill, of Fayette county as a member of the Board of Commissioners of the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum.

Mr. Estill's resignation was a surprise to his fellow members, but as he resides some miles from the city he has found it inconvenient to give attention to the duties of the position, and that is probably the reason he retired.—Lexington Leader.

Probably Pastime.

The slick Peg Leg Norris made a good thing out of the Land bunco game—a good thing for himself, but not much for Mr. Land. After all his blowing about the arrest and imprisonment of Haines, and his intention of bringing that culprit to justice, Haines was allowed to go free on the payment of some $3,000, and of that $3,000 Mr. Land has got nothing.

It is believed that Norris pocketed the whole. He has promised to come on here and settle, but he hasn't come.
